WARRIOR PARK

Construction on Warrior Park began in the spring of 2003 with funds generated from the Dobbs Memorial Fund (established in honor of Scott Dobbs). Warrior Park is one of the most unique high school baseball facilities in the area.

Facts:

- The dimensions are Boston's Fenway Park flipped backwards.
- Natural turf is a blend of Kentucky bluegrass and perennial ryegrass.
- The infield skin is about 60% sand and 40% silt/clay (.86 ratio).
- The 60 box seats behind home plate are mounted on iron legs originally installed in a facility in St. Louis for the 1904 World's Fair.
- All of the seats and seat backs have been replaced with plastic that was in Camden Yards (home of the Baltimore Orioles) from 1992-2002.
- A 40' manually operated scoreboard is built into the right field fence.

Location (7525 W 21st St, Indianapolis, IN 46214):

- Warrior Park sits directly south of the school building, and the entrance for team and spectator parking is off of Mardona Dr., the first road heading west on 21st St. from the school's main entrance.

WARRIOR FIELDHOUSE

Warrior Fieldhouse is the home to the volleyball, basketball, and physical education programs at Covenant. The 850-seat venue was built in 1997 with the original construction of the school.

Facts:

- The court is named after alumnus Andrew Smith (Class of 2009), who passed away after battling cancer. Smith was a 4-year varsity basketball player, City Player of the Year, a program record holder, and helped lead the Warriors to the program's first sectional title. he went on to play for Butler University and contributed to back-to-back national runners-up finishes in the NCAA Tournament for the Bulldogs.
- A 3500 sq. feet weight room at its south end. It includes many free weights and machines as well as space for speed and agility training, as well as a drop-down batting cage for baseball and softball.

WARRIOR FIELD

Warrior Field is used for both games and practices by both the boys and girls soccer programs throughout the fall season, as well as open fields, baseball practices, summer conditioning and camps, and practice space for outside groups.

Facts:

- Like Warrior Park, the grass is a blend of Kentucky bluegrass and perennial ryegrass. It grows in native soil.
- There is no in-ground irrigation, but the field is irrigated by an above-ground water reel.
- Warrior Field is 114 yards long and 72 yards wide.

Location (7525 W 21st St, Indianapolis, IN 46214):

- Warrior Field sits directly south of the school building, and the entrance for team and spectator parking is off of Mardona Dr., the first road heading west on 21st St. from the school's main entrance.

TENNIS COURTS

Warrior Tennis began their first practices and home matches on the courts of the Country Club of Indianapolis until the fall of 1999. That year, the Emmick family donated the funds to build the Covenant tennis courts, which has six full-size competition courts.

The Covenant Tennis Courts are dedicated to the Emmick family and they were first used during the Spring 2001 season.

Facts:

- The Covenant Tennis Courts are dedicated to Ty Emmick's grandparents and they were first used during the Spring 2001 season.
- The complex holds six full-size competition courts.

OFF-CAMPUS VENUES

Covenant Athletics enjoys partnership with several off-campus locations for the use of facilities for practices and contests.

Football:

- The Warrior football program plays its home contests at Zionsville West Middle School (5565 S 700 E, Whitestown, IN 46075)

Softball:

- The Warrior softball team practices and plays its home games just north of CCHS at Wayne Sports Park on the Ben Davis Youth Softball League complex (2400 N Girls School Rd, Indianapolis, IN 46214)

Golf:

- The boys and girls golf teams use Eagle Creek Golf Club for their practices and home matches (8802 W 56th St, Indianapolis, IN 46234)

The Covenant swim program also rents practice space at the Pike Aquatic Center and track and field teams utilize several tracks at nearby schools for practices..
